Extreme Care Limited.

To whom it may concern,

I sadly lost my husband in June 2021 who was living in Bulgaria. This came as a shock to myself and to our sons. I was overwhelmed and really did not know what to do, so I contacted the British embassy who supplied a list of different contacts in Bulgaria. I contacted a number of different companies and received a quick response from Extreme Care Limited with helpful information and next steps which set the tone for how helpful they were going to prove to be going forward. Peter Chernaev the managing director, from the very beginning of this sad journey, has gone above and beyond in helping and guiding through the process.

Peter went to the hospital and spoke to the doctors to get us much needed answers, as well as handling the cremation and repatriation of my late husband's ashes and sending belongings and death certificates. He has constantly kept me informed throughout and nothing has ever been too much. I would strongly recommend using Extreme Care Limited if you are ever unfortunate to be in a similar position to myself, as you will be treated with compassion and care and will never be left in the dark. I can not recommend them enough.

Kind regards,
